

We would require the overall height (dimension A or B) which is from the top of the handle to the bottom of the hitch (including the bolts & foot) depending on whether it has one. Also we would need the width of the hitch at its widest part, including any bolts (dimension C).